

Social Impact & Communications Fellow

T1D Women, Inc. is looking for a passionate Social Impact Fellow to help expand our growing nonprofit and the community we serve.

Hybrid role — a mix of virtual work and occasional in-person meetings in the Atlanta area.

ABOUT T1D WOMEN

Our mission is to advocate for and empower women with Type 1 diabetes by building community through social media, providing trusted resources and events, and raising awareness of the unique challenges women face throughout every stage of life that can affect blood sugar. T1D Women is committed to keeping our events free for women with T1D and for parents and caregivers of girls with T1D.

Type 1 diabetes (T1D) is an autoimmune disease in which the immune system destroys the insulin-producing cells in the pancreas. People with T1D make little or no insulin and must take insulin to stay alive. T1D can develop at any age and requires continuous management of blood glucose and insulin. T1D cannot be prevented or reversed through lifestyle changes.

2027 PHOTO EXHIBIT

Following T1D Women's second annual T1D Women's Summit: Hormones + Blood Sugar, the organization will launch a new annual photo exhibit in 2027 featuring people living with T1D and normalizing the visibility of diabetes medical devices. The exhibit will feature an estimated 25 photographs and stories. Photos will be taken in October 2026, followed by an April 25, 2027 opening at an Atlanta art studio, with the community and press invited. T1D Women is excited to take this exhibit on the road and continue expanding visibility for people living with T1D.

THE FELLOWSHIP

The fellow will work directly with T1D Women in two primary areas of work during the 10-week fellowship, along with other projects and responsibilities as needed.

PROJECT 1: 2027 PHOTO EXHIBIT

Support the development and execution of T1D Women's inaugural photo exhibit.

- Assist with exhibit setup, coordination, and day-of-event support
- Assist with press and media outreach
- Research and explore possible locations for future exhibits

PROJECT 2: SOCIAL MEDIA: VISIBILITY & ADVOCACY

Help expand T1D Women's visibility and strengthen connections within the T1D and women's health communities. In our first year, T1D Women reached more than 27 million views across social media.

- Assist with editing, uploading, scheduling, and posting content across social media platforms
- Create and edit short-form video using CapCut or similar editing tools
- Create static graphics and polls using Canva
- Support social media content related to community partnerships and advocacy

QUALIFICATIONS

- Strong interest in nonprofit work, social impact, communications, marketing, social media, or community engagement
- Experience with social media
- Strong written, verbal, and research skills
- Creative with an eye for engaging social media content
- Able to take direction, follow through, and meet deadlines
- Reliable transportation for occasional in-person events and community activities
- Availability on April 25, 2027 for the Photo Exhibit

LEARNING OUTCOMES

- Build a professional portfolio of nonprofit communications, social media, and digital content
- Gain hands-on experience using social media to build visibility, community, and advocacy
- Develop experience in public relations, press pitching, and media outreach
- Gain hands-on experience developing and executing a public-facing nonprofit advocacy project

TO APPLY

Please submit a resume, cover letter, and link to any relevant social media account, portfolio, or other work you'd like to include to contact@t1dwomen.org.

In your cover letter, please tell us why you're interested in T1D Women and any relevant experience. T1D Women, Inc. welcomes applicants who are passionate about building community, amplifying the experiences of women with T1D, and contributing to meaningful social impact. We look forward to hearing from you!

This position is a collaboration with the Institute for Leadership and Social Impact (ILSI) at Georgia Tech. The student selected for this position will receive a Social Impact Fellowship from ILSI in the amount of $1,800 upon verification of their eligibility for a scholarship with the Financial Aid office. Students are expected to work 10 hours a week for 10 weeks. Students need to be enrolled full-time. ILSI will handle onboarding and the payment process, and Fellows are expected to complete deliverables about their experience.
