

Title: Clarkston Food Initiative Communications Intern 2022
Status: Part-time/temporary
Reports to: Network Manager

Position Overview: The Clarkston Food Initiative (CFI) Communications intern will provide support for a network of organizations collaborating on food access projects in the greater Clarkston area. The CFI intern will report to Global Growers Network, but will contribute to collaborative communications efforts in Clarkston. The position will support the development of CFI's external facing communications, including social media, web presence, and resources on food production and nutrition.

About Global Growers Network: Global Growers Network supports the local people who grow healthy food for our community. We are especially known for our work with farmers who came to this country as legal refugees. Global Growers Network creates pathways for talented farmers to contribute their agricultural skills to our local food system. We operate a network of 10 farm and garden sites around metro Atlanta to create access to more than 30 acres of land for healthy food production.

About Clarkston Food Initiative: Clarkston Food Initiative (CFI) is a network of organizations, businesses, and institutions collaborating on food projects in the greater Clarkston area. CFI's mission is to build a future where everyone in Clarkston has opportunities to access, eat, grow, and share nutritious, culturally relevant foods. CFI's objectives include engaging and educating the community, expanding local food production and market opportunities, and supporting sustainable food security in Clarkston.

Responsibilities: Due to the continued COVID-19 pandemic, we expect that most responsibilities for this position will be conducted remotely. Because of the remote nature of this position, the candidate will need to have regular phone, computer and internet access.

- Work with program staff and CFI members to create engaging content for CFI social media accounts and maintain editorial calendar
- Create plan for developing and maintaining a CFI website
- Participate in Clarkston Food Initiative meetings and events
- Update digital and print food asset map and online resource library
- Create culturally and linguistically appropriate educational resources for the Clarkston community
- Work with program staff and CFI members to develop communications strategy for CFI
- Support other CFI communications efforts as needed

Qualifications and Experience Requirements:

- Prior experience with website design and/or graphic design preferred
- Availability on occasional evenings and weekends for Clarkston Food Initiative meetings or other relevant community activities
- Personal and professional experience in navigating multicultural and multilingual environments, including working with formal and informal interpreters

Location: Global Growers Network's office is located in Decatur, GA in a nonprofit co-working space operated by the City of Decatur at Legacy Park, a beautiful 77-acre greenspace that is also home to our Decatur's Kitchen Garden and Orchard. Our current farm and garden sites are located in Decatur, Clarkston, and Conyers.

Schedule and Terms: This is a spring internship with Global Growers Network for 8-10 hours per week for 12 weeks (January 10 - March 31, 2022). This position will be primarily remote, with some opportunities for in-person meetings in Decatur and/or Clarkston.

Application Details: Please submit your resume and cover letter in PDF form with the job title in the subject line to hr@globalgrowers.org by Friday, December 10, 2021. Your cover letter should identify why you are interested in interning with Global Growers Network, your past experience with communications, and what you have learned from working in multicultural and multilingual environments. The expected start date is January 10, 2022.
