Matt McFadyen is a keynote speaker and facilitator for Peak Teams. As a record-breaking polar adventurer, sailor, and inspirational speaker, Matt McFadyen takes an audience on powerful leadership adventures. Using the latest in interactive technology, the audience makes critical decisions during the unique and compelling journey.

Pushing toward the ends of the earth, Matt led his teams, and leads the audience, through the emotional highs and lows and to the extremes of human potential. Matt has worked with diverse global organizations to engage, align and inspire leaders and their teams. He has delivered over 300 presentations on 4 continents and partnered with organizations across several industries.

An experienced sailor and polar adventurer, Matt has led teams to the ends of the earth and developed his own unique leadership story.

Originally from Sydney, Australia, Matt currently resides in Santa Cruz, California.