TEACHING ACTIVITIES

Courses Taught

- Analysis of Emerging Technologies (to undergraduate and graduate students.) Average teaching evaluation (out of 5.0) for all sections of this course taught since 2007 is 4.88. Response rate 84%.
- Information Technology Management (PhD course.)
- Global Strategy Project. This is the capstone course for the Executive MBA – Global Business program.

Teaching Cases Authored

Eric Overby and Benn Konsynski, “Making Markets at Manheim.” This case presents the Mechanisms of the Market (“MoM”) framework as a method to analyze how changes in the technological, regulatory, and competitive environment affect how markets function. It is appropriate for any course that discusses how IT changes the possibilities for market practice. The case includes a teaching note.

AWARDS, GRANTS, AND HONORS

Research awards

2015: Received the Sandy Slaughter Early Career Award from the INFORMS Information Systems Society.

2015: Received the 2015 Linda and Lloyd L. Byars Award for Faculty Research Excellence from the Scheller College of Business, Georgia Institute of Technology.

2013: Received the 2013 Young Researcher Award from the Workshop on Health IT and Economics for the paper “Improving the Malpractice System: Effect of EMRs on Claim Resolution Time?” Paper co-authored with Sam Ransbotham and Michael Jernigan.

2010: Received the 2010 Best Program Paper award from the Organizational Communication and Information Systems division of the Academy of Management for the paper “Does Individuals’

Adoption of New Technologies Supplement or Substitute for Incumbent Technologies?" Paper co-authored with Sam Ransbotham.

2009: Received the Best Published Paper of 2008 Award from the Organizational Communication and Information Systems division of the Academy of Management for the paper, "Process Virtualization Theory and the Impact of Information Technology."

2007: Named one of three finalists for the ACM SIGMIS Dissertation Competition at the 2007 International Conference on Information Systems ("ICIS.") The competition was for all doctoral dissertations around the world completed in the Information Systems field between July 2006 and June 2007.

2006: Received the Best Student Paper award at the 2006 INFORMS Conference on Information Systems and Technology ("CIST") for the paper entitled "Modeling and Measuring Buyer and Seller Behavior in Technology-Enabled Markets for Products of Uncertain Quality."

2005: Received two Best Paper awards at the 2005 Academy of Management Meeting (Organizational Communication and Information Systems ("OCIS") division.)

a. Top Student Paper

b. Best Interactive Paper

Both awards are for the paper entitled "Process Virtualization Theory and the Impact of Information Technology."

Grants

2011: Summer Research Grant from the Networks, Electronic Commerce, and Telecommunications ("NET") Institute. Grant amount: $3,000.

2009: Received $7,100 grant from the Rich Foundation for incorporating ethics topics into the Analysis of Emerging Technologies course. Grant awarded through the Georgia Tech College of Management in May 2009.

2006: Awarded a $5,000 research grant from the National Auto Auction Association (www.naaa.com) to investigate the shift from physical to electronic trading environments in the wholesale automotive industry. Grant awarded July 2006.

Teaching Awards

2016: Recipient of the Class of 1940 Course Survey Teaching Effectiveness Award at the Georgia Institute of Technology.

2015: Hesburgh Award Teaching Fellow at the Georgia Institute of Technology.

2014: Recipient of the Class of 1940 Course Survey Teaching Effectiveness Award at the Georgia Institute of Technology.

2013: Recipient of the Class of 1940 Course Survey Teaching Effectiveness Award at the Georgia Institute of Technology.

2012: Recipient of the Class of 1934 Course Survey Teaching Effectiveness Award at the Georgia Institute of Technology.

2011: Recipient of the Class of 1934 Course Survey Teaching Effectiveness Award at the Georgia Institute of Technology.

2011: One of two (out of 221) junior faculty members from across all colleges at the Georgia Institute of Technology to receive a CETL/BP Junior Faculty Teaching Excellence Award.

2011: Recipient of the James F. Frazier, Jr. Award for Teaching Excellence. This award is given to a College of Management faculty member.

Service Awards and Other

2015: Recipient of the 2015 Meritorious Service Award from Management Science (as an associate editor).

2013: Recipient of the 2013 Meritorious Service Award from Management Science (as a reviewer).

2012: Recipient of the 2011 Best Reviewer Award for Information Systems Research.

2012: Keynote speaker at Association for Information Systems Workshop on Business Processes and Services.

MANAGERIAL IMPACT

Research Reported in the Popular Press

Used Car News (September 17, 2007.) Story entitled “Study Explores Differences Between Electronic, Physical Auctions.”

Automotive News (May 22, 2006) and Used Car News (May 1, 2006). Study reported on entitled "Physical vs. Online Auction Environments."

Industry Presentations

Featured Presenter at the 2007 annual meeting of the National Auto Auction Association (<http://www.naaa.com/i4a/pages/index.cfm?pageid=3524>), Bonita Springs, FL, April 2007. Speech entitled “Dealer Preferences for Physical vs. Electronic Auctions.”

Featured Presenter at the 2006 annual meeting of the National Auto Auction Association (www.naaa.com), Seattle, WA, April 2006. This industry-wide meeting is attended by executives from automotive auction companies throughout the United States. Speech entitled “Physical vs. Online Auction Environments.”

Keynote Speaker at the 2006 Conference of Automotive Remarketers (www.carconference.com), Las Vegas, NV, March 2006. This industry conference is attended by executives responsible for vehicle fleet management at firms such as Ford, GM, Bank of America, and GE. Speech entitled “Physical vs. Online Auction Environments: A Data-Driven Comparison of Physical Auctions, Electronic Auctions, Webcast Auctions, and Cinema Auctions.”

Speaker at the National Association of Fleet Administrators Symposium (www.nafa.org), Atlanta, GA, November 2005. This symposium is attended by managers responsible for vehicle fleet operations in the Southeast United States. Speech entitled “Auction Theory.”

Other Industry Impact

Research on how electronic trading affects buyers’ behavior featured in the 2010 Used Car Market Report published by Manheim (http://www.manheim.com/content_pdfs/products/ManheimConsulting_UCMR-2010.pdf).
